

Carrier's TURFPROSLAWN CARE

Comparing Prices Turf Pros Fertilizing Versus Yourself

Is It Really Cheaper to Do It Yourself ?

Lawn Care Professions don't do a good enough job explaining to their customers what you are getting. Yes anyone can fertilize a lawn. But what you're actually paying a lawn care company to do is provide a complete lawn care solution every time they come out to your lawn. Fertilizer is just one aspect of the formula that equals a great looking lawn. When you choose The Turf Pros, you're hiring a team of certified experts who understand what it takes to produce the thickest, greenest, and healthiest lawns.

The chart below factors in what Turf Pros Fertilizing provides with a typical application, including the fertilizer, weed control, insect control and repeat weed treatment (because some weeds just are that stubborn). It also shows just how much you would pay Turf Pros to treat your lawn, and the price you would pay for the products at one of the Big Box Stores if you decided to do it yourself.

Typical lawn application based on 15,000 square foot lawn	Cost of Hiring Turf Pros	Product Cost at Big Box Stores
Granular Fertilizer for 15,000 square feet	$84.87	$59.98
Liquid Weed Control for 15,000 square feet	INCLUDED	$35.00
Weed Control Re-Sprays Between Applications	INCLUDED	$35.00
Mid-Summer Evaluation Report	INCLUDED	Cost for your time
TOTAL	$84.87	$129.98

*Price based on treatment for 15,000 square foot lawn. Home Depot prices were obtained from www.HomeDepot.com